MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

"KHPT has ended another year with its unique on-ground work and compassion despite the increasingly challenging environment. The onset of the COVID-19 pandemic has begun to affect thousands of people, particularly populations that are vulnerable due to existing health conditions, as well as socio-economic vulnerabilities. KHPT's interventions and activities have always centred on improving the health and well-being of vulnerable communities, and the organization has leveraged its capabilities and efforts to identify the needs of those affected by the pandemic and the subsequent lockdown. We are yet to wait and watch how things unfold.

We believe that this is the time that the sector players come together and join hands for supporting the state in managing the crisis. KHPT's strong grassroots connect and technical expertise facilitated a response that brought together its frontline staff, their extensive networks in the community and support from donors and partners to mobilize resources and support including humanitarian aid, outreach and counselling services, awareness through communication material development, and support to the Government of Karnataka.

The year 2019-20 gave us several opportunities especially in our thematic areas TB and comprehensive primary health care (CPHC) to innovate and design successful community centred strategies that were recognised at both national and state levels, and we hope to take some of these to scale both in and outside Karnataka.

We are delighted and honoured by the valuable contribution made by our frontline workers, donors, partners, government functionaries and the advisory board members in all the steps taken towards the betterment of the communities we work for. In the true spirit of partnership, we continue to seek your support and goodwill as we move forward towards our vision of empowered communities asserting their rights to a life of dignity and respect."

아이 문화 Comprehensive Primary Health Care

Brief description of the thematic area:

A strong primary healthcare system is crucial in order to achieve health related sustainable development goals (SDG) and attaining universal health coverage (UHC). In India, a series of transformative initiatives and increased investments on primary health care had seen it achieve improvements in health promotion, disease prevention, and service outreach. However, services at primary care still remain sporadic and fragmented; high out-of-pocket health expenditures remained static. A larger proportion of people are still accessing private care where cost of care remains high and standards of treatment remains questionable.

With this context, KHPT is striving to design, develop, implement and evaluate a comprehensive primary health care (CPHC) model in Mysuru city through an implementation research design leveraging on learning and experience from an ongoing pilot project on Non-Communicable Disease (NCD) care. The ongoing pilot aims to develop a primary health care model for NCDs and has been in operation in the same city for last three years. Given the comprehensive health system management needs and disease management protocols for NCDs; many learnings from a such program could be adapted while designing a comprehensive primary care model (CPHC model). While the overarching CPHC model/theme aims to transform Mysuru city as a healthy city and provide quality essential primary care services, NCDs have remained so far the main fulcrum towards that vision.

Project name: Strengthening Continuum of Care of Non-Communicable Diseases through an integrated urban health systems based implementation model in Mysore City
